In east coast states like Pahang and Terengganu, you will be able to walk along beautiful stretches of beaches that face the South China Sea, while in northern states of Malaysia such as Perlis or Kedah, you will be able to witness stunning scenery of green paddy fields, mangroves, and see "kampung" or village houses that belong to hardworking farmers and their families.

Diverse Harmonious Culture

Malaysia is home to citizens of Malay, Chinese, Indian, and indigenous races, renowned for its welcoming atmosphere and acceptance of people from all backgrounds. As a multicultural nation, Malaysians are proficient in multiple languages, including Malay, English, Mandarin, Cantonese, and Tamil.
