Study in Malaysia

Harmony in Diversity: Discover Malaysia’s vibrant cultural melting pot of races and religions, where people from diverse backgrounds live, learn, and thrive side by side.

Diverse Geographical Landscape

For instance, in Kuala Lumpur you will find a modern city bustling with life, and home to skyscrapers occupied by many multinational companies. In east coast states like Pahang and Terengganu, you will be able to walk along beautiful stretches of beaches that face the South China Sea, while in northern states of Malaysia such as Perlis or Kedah, you will be able to witness stunning scenery of green paddy fields, mangroves, and see “kampung” or village houses that belong to hardworking farmers and their families.

Diverse Harmonious Culture

Malaysia is home to citizens of Malay, Chinese, Indian, and indigenous races, renowned for its welcoming atmosphere and acceptance of people from all backgrounds. As a multicultural nation, Malaysians are proficient in multiple languages, including Malay, English, Mandarin, Cantonese, and Tamil. This linguistic diversity ensures that students can easily communicate with locals.

Study in Johor

Located at the southernmost tip of West Malaysia, Johor is a vibrant state enriched by its cultural heritage and stunning landscapes.

Johor's Heritage and Natural Charms

Explore Johor's natural wonders, from pristine islands like Pulau Sibu to the ancient rainforests of Endau-Rompin National Park. Experience the blend of old and new in Johor's architecture, from heritage streets to majestic mosques.

Travel with Ease

The Raffles University Medini Campus's strategic location offers students seamless access to nearby towns, and states, through self-driving, shuttle buses, or private-hire car services. Convenient connection to bus stations, ferry piers, and airports further enhances travel options.

Convenient Gateway to Singapore

Raffles University Medini Campus is just 20 minutes away from Tuas Second Link, making travel affordable and accessible for students. Explore Singapore's museums, shopping, and cafes on weekends, or opt for convenient transit to Changi Airport for travel plans.

Cost-Effective Living

Johor's affordable living costs, ranging from RM800 to RM1,500 monthly, make it an ideal choice for students of diverse lifestyles, offering accessibility and economic comfort for their educational journey.

Medini Campus Enhancing University Life in a Developing Town

Get into the community

Situated in Medini City, the core development area in Johor, we anticipate increased exposure to the nearby community, including the neighbouring townships such as Medini City, Puteri Harbour, Educity, etc. Raffles University students will have various opportunities to be part of a young and enthusiastic community.

Experience a Vibrant Student Life at Educity

Situated near Educity, the pioneering township with multiple educational institutions. Educity offers comprehensive services such as Educity Village Accommodation, the Educity Sports Complex, and the Student Hub, ensuring a fulfilling social and academic experience.

Let's Get You Settled in

Recognising the challenge of separation from family and friends, students can expect secure, convenient, and conducive accommodation. It is situated near parks, shopping outlets, and hospitals, with cafes and restaurants nearby providing a diverse array of food options.

FIRST DRAFT · Raffles Graduation Show 2025 It Begins Here

Before grades and deadlines, there was a spark or a sketch in the margin. That first draft opened the door to Raffles University. Our graduates now stand at a new threshold. Their final capstone projects are, once again, first drafts that are raw, ambitious, and full of promise for the future.

About the Show
The 2025 Graduation Show presents final-year works from the following faculties:

- AI and Robotics
- Arts and Design
- Built Environment and Regenerative Design
- Social Sciences

Through exhibitions, talks, and performances, the show reveals how ideas transform from a first sketch into future practice.

Master of Business Administration

I chose RU because of its reasonable tuition fees, comprehensive programme coverage, and professional lecturers. My MBA studies at RU helped me understand various business aspects, giving me greater confidence in planning for my future. I am now considering the prospect of starting my own business and becoming an entrepreneur myself.
